UNDP's Certification and Procurement Training Programme offers the opportunity for practitioners to improve their knowledge and skills in various aspects of public procurement. These training courses are intended for staff from UN organisations, International Finance Institutions and their borrowers, inter-governmental organisations, local and international NGOs and governments.

Part of UNDP's Procurement Training Programme is accredited by The Chartered Institute of Purchasing and Supply (CIPS) in the UK. This not only assures compliance with high international quality standards but also offers CIPS' membership to all course participants, thereby providing access to a world-wide community of procurement professionals. All training and certification courses are tailored to reflect common UN and public procurement rules, policies and procedures.

Tailor-made Courses

These courses are designed to meet the specific requirements of your staff and organisation. They can be held at a location of your choice and are thus a very cost-effective solution if there is a large group of staff to be trained.

A tailor-made course can take several forms:

- Training course focusing on the specific situation, challenges and opportunities facing your Organisation;
- Combining modules from our different standard courses to meet your unique learning and development requirements;
- Development of a completely new course to precisely address your training requirements;
- Cross-cutting issues such as: ethics in procurement, environmental and social aspects, procurement planning, procurement strategies and performance measurement and management can be integrated into customized courses.

UNDP Training & Certification Programme is Nominated for 2015 Supply Management Award.

UNDP and CIPS were awarded the prestigious European Supply Chain Excellence Award 2012/2013 for Training and Professional Development. This Award is in recognition of the Procurement Certification and Training Programme and its success in professionalizing the UN and public procurement sector.
